FRANK A. MUNSEY STOPS BANK PANIC

Following Run on United States Trust Co. He Buys Institution.

GREAT EXCITEMENT.

Run on One of Washington's Largest Trust Companies Commences Yesterday.

Word reached Alexandria late yesterday that a run had been started on the United States Trust Company in Washington and that the fronts of the buildings at Fifteenth street and H streets and Tenth and Pennsylvania avenue, and five branches were thronged with excited people who were clamoring and surging in attempts to force their way into the places. Alexandrians who reached home later gave thrilling accounts of the scenes in front of the company's buildings. At the outset certain persons, who had become alarmed from some cause, proceeded to the company's main offices and branches and withdrew their deposits, and when it became generally known people were withdrawing their deposits, the bulk of the fifty-odd thousand persons who had money deposited with the company dropped everything and hurried to the scene. Of course, in such a jam it was impossible for the attaches of the institution to wait upon their patrons with any sort of expedition, and those who were unable to reach the paying tellers suffered mental agony. The windows were finally closed at four o'clock, an hour later than the usual time.

Thousands of persons who had during the year been placing small sums on deposit for use during the holiday season were especially anxious. While not having large assets in the bank, such comprised their all—money saved from spare earnings during the snows of winter and the sultry dog days. Most of the assemblages were compelled to retrace their steps homeward with depressed spirits, realizing, as they did the sad fact that riches often take unto themselves wings and fly away.

Late last night considerable relief was experienced by all interested when it was announced that the Munsey Trust Company, of Washington, had purchased the controlling interest in the United States Trust Company.

This means that the 55,000 depositors of the United States Trust Company has the Munsey Trust Company and its president, Frank A. Munsey, back of every dollar they have on deposit.

It means that the $450,000 savings of the prudent who have been paying into the Christmas Savings Fund all year will be ready for distribution just before the holidays to help every merchant in Washington—it means that there will be no waiting, no advantage taken of technicalities but that the depositors' cash awaits their pleasure.

Officials and directors of the companies have been in frequent conference for the past three days, and last night they met at the Shoreham Hotel, where the merger was effected and papers signed. So soon as the deal had been consummated, Mr. Munsey issued the following statement:

"I arrived in Washington at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, after having received reports from my representatives who have been at work night and day for the past three days trying to be of service to the depositors of the United States Trust Comapny and the Washington financial and banking world.

"At 10 o'clock at night we came to a final, definite understanding ratified both by the boards of the Munsey Trust Company of Washington and the United States Trust Company, by which the Munsey Trust Company takes over bodily and entire the United States Trust Company. In other words, the United States Trust Company now becomes merely a part of the Munsey Trust Company, the Munsey Trust Company guaranteeing the deposits.

"The Munsey Trust Company has absorbed the United States Trust Company and all its branches with the full knowledge and consent of the Treasury Department. The examiner desires to inform all depositors that their deposits with the United States Trust Company are absolutely safe, and that they should feel no apprehension whatever. The crisis has passed, and depositors may now relieve their minds of any enxiety."

Through the National Metropolitan Bank, the District National Bank, the Federal National Bank, the Commercial National Bank, and others of the big banks, the Treasury Department arranged to deposit with the Munsey Trust Company to meet the needs of all depositors today the sum of $1,000,000 in cash.

The national bank examiner, Richard W. Goodhart, made an examination of the affairs of the United States Trust Company last week, and in his report to the Acting Comptroller of the Currency claimed that the capital was impaired with too heavy investments in real estate and a number of doubtful loans. This became known in financial circles and was the cause of the rush of depositors yesterday to close their accounts.

The United States Trust Company was organized in 1907 and at the time of the completion of the deal just effected, maintained besides its central offices at Fifteenth and H streets, five branches scattered throughout the city. Its capital and surplus approximated $1,320,000. This business is added to that already established by the Munsey Trust Company, which has a capital stock of $2,000,000.

When the United States Trust Co., and it branches opened at 9 o'clock this morning they were branches of the Munsey Trust Company, and they had been enriched over night by one million dollars in cash from the Treasury Department, sent through arrangements with a number of the large banks of the city.

When the doors of the United States Trust were closed yesterday, there were waiting lines of depositors. Many of them were depositors only in the Christmas savings fund, of which the total amount in the hands of the company is about $450,000.

These are the persons who really were most relieved this morning to know that a strong hand had taken the helm, and that they could draw out their money today, let it stay in and draw interest, if they wished, but that no matter what happened, it would be there for them when they did want to take it out.

ABOLISHES NEW YEAR CUSTOM.

President Not to Hold Reception This Year—He is Going Away for a Rest.

Washington, Nov. 22.—There will be no New Year reception at the White House this year.

President Wilson today let it be known that he is going away for some much needed rest. He will not be at the White House on New Yeaa. day. The time-honored custom of the Chief Executive of the nation meeting and greeting all Washington, as well as thousands of visitors to the city for that purpose, will be brought to a sudden finish, for one year at least, this year.

For years, the President, on the first of each January, has stood in the Blue Room of the White House for at least five hours, and has shaken hands with the countless hundreds who have wended their way after standing in line for hours, through the Executive Mansion.

SWALLOW POISON BY MISTAKE.

Young Man and Boy Saved From Death After Taking Bichloride of Mercury.

Staunton, Va., Nov. 22.—A member of the family of J. S. Caldwell, of near Fishersville, dressed a cut on his hand with bichloride of mercury Saturday night and left the glass containing the mixture near the water pitcher.

Little Jo Scott, the youngest son of Mr. Caldwell came along and took a drink out of the glass. He got one swallow and then remarked to his older brother, William, aged 22, that the water did not taste right. William picked up the glass and drained its contents.

The alarm was given at once and a hurried call sent for Dr. White. When he arrived within a few minutes, neither the young man nor the child could feel any bad effects from the poison and he administered remedia which were believed to be effective.

MAY HAVE BEEN BURIED ALIVE

Thugs Make Way With Pennsylvania Farmer After Robbery.

MAKES CONFESSION.

One Suspect Been Spending Money Lavishly Upon a Woman—Other Arrests to Follow.

Media, Pa., Nov. 22.—To make a horrible story more brutal, District Atorney John H. Hannum,Jr., will endeavor to prove that S. Louis Pinkerton was buried alive. The Commonwealth's attorney, his assistant, J. Rohrman Robinson, and Detectives O'Toole and Meli spent from an early hour until nearly midnight Thursday uizzing Pennington, the younger of the confessed murderers, along this line.

About 7 o'clock last night Pennington was brought before ahe officers in the office of the county jail. He was plied with question upon question as to Pinkerton's condition at the time they placed him in the grave. Pennington said:

"I don't know whether he was dead or alve. We sotod him up against a tree while we were digging his grave. When I took hold of his body to help put him in the hole we had dug I noticed tht it was warm and I thought he moved.

"I know he was alive when we went back to the barn, two hours after we though we had killed him, because I distinctly saw him move.

"Pinkerton was carried to and placed in the wagon by Marsch. When we came to the road where we unloaded him Marsch took his body and carried him across two fields and into the woods, and there stood him up against a tree."

Since the crime was discovered employes on the Wilson farms have made statements which show, the authorities sad, that Marsch "had it in for" Pinkerton for several weeks or longer. Marsch hackled the overseer at the slightest provocation.

County officials found several blood-stained $5 and $10 bills in the cellar of the farm huse where the Marschs lived till the arrests for the murder were effected. The bills were found wedged behind the frame of an picture.

What became of the rest of the murdered man's money and his other valuables is an unsolved problem; but it was learned this afternoon that Pinkerton had turned a hundred or so dollars into the county treasury just before the killing. His brother, Frank Pinkerton still insists Lewis had a $1000 note.

Pennington is supposed to have lavished much of his share of the murder loot upon a girl in West Chester. The police are now looking for her. It was this girl, it is believed, who always kept Pennington poor. He was a chronic borrower, but he appeared in West Chester last Saturday night scattering money in saloons and pool rooms.

BOY BURNED AT STAKE.

Children Playing Indian Built Bon Fire in Room.

New York, Nov. 22.—Two children playing Indian on the fourth floor of a tenement house in St. John's place, Brooklyn, a day or two gao, built a bon fire in the centre of a room and began to burn their brother, Hyman Berman, 4 years old, at the stake.

When Mrs. Sarah Berman, mother of Hyman and of the other two Isreal, 6, and Benjamin, 2, came home she found smoke pouring from her apartment. Hyman's clothes were in flames. The mother's cries sent the other families in the tenement house running out and brought help.

The Bermans were rescued by Patrolman Stosser of the Brownville police station and John Loughlin, who lives in the building. The two men climbed a fire escape and bore the family to the street.

Hyman was burned severely and the others suffered from inhaling smoke.

FOOTBALL GAMES DRAW THOUSANDS

Boston Hotels Overflowed With Visitors Bent on Seeing Games.

45,000 ARE EXPECTED.

Teams Evenly Matched at to Weight—Biggest Game of the Season—Ready For Contest.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 22.—They're here today; all the bugs and buggesses that follow in the wake of two great football teams, for at the stadium here this afternoon the biggest game of the season will be staged when Harvard and Yale meet in their annual struggle.

The classic of American outdoor sports has attracted one of the biggest crowds of history to Boston and Cambridge today. When the game is called it is estimated that more than 45,000 persons will be looking down upon the field from the giant stadium upon the twenty-two men who will battle like gladiators of old for the premier football honors of the East.

Harvard was still the favorite in the betting today. The Yale men were confident, but as Harvard's record for the season looks much better on paper than does that of the Blue, the men of Eli held back for favorable odds. Bets at 10 to 7 were made during the morning, and as these odds have prevailed for the past week, it did not seem likely that Yaye would be given a better price.

Thousands poured into Boston from the early morning trains. Theatres were jammed to the doors last night by the football visitors. Hotel rooms were at a premium. As the trains arrived early today streets in the vicinity of the station were choked with humanity. There was a rush for breakfast, an investment in colors or a pennant, and the great throngs then settled down to wait for game time and go over the dope.

GIRL'S SAD FATE.

Dying From Mercurial Poisoning, she Testifies Against Merchant.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 22.—"In the face of death I am trying to do something to put an end to a traffic that is sending girls to hell."

Ruth Steel, nineteen-year-old mountain girl said yesterday thats why she had come twenty miles on a cot from her home in Paint Creek to testify against George Jordan, Charleston business man on trial charged with white slavery in bringing Miss Steel from Ironton, Ohio, to this city, where it is alleged he placed her in an illegal resort.

Federal authorities assert that the Steel girl was forcibly held in the resort and under the constant threats of Jordan attempted suicide by taking bichloride of mercury. Physicians say the girl is dying, and hold out no hope for her recovery.

"It was the constant hounding of that man that brought me to this," she said to District Attorney Barnhard and Federal Investigator Fitzwater.

"When I finally got free of that place, I wanted to be good again. My sister took me back. I wanted to be good. God knows how I tried to live down my shame.

"Then this man came. He had already been indicted. Under threats and fear of what would happen to a defenseless girl, I had signed the paper—an affidavit, they said it was—clearing him and the woman of the charge."

THE PAN-AMERICAN MASS.

(Communicated.)

To the Editor of the Gazette:

Is the great American Eagle moulting or only loafing on his job? It looks like it when a few narrow minded clergymen undertake to dictate to the President of the United States how and where he shall worship. What next? The doctors will doubtless get up a petition to restrain him from serving plum pudding and mince pies on Thanksgiving on the plea of indigestion. Is this a republic or a limited monarchy when a few cranks want to destroy the personal liberty of the President?

There was a great crank named Mc[illegible]m,
Who thought it a very great sin,
For the President to go to the Catholic Church, heigho!
So let's pray for poor benighted McKim.

CLOCK TICKS ACROSS OCEAN.

Beats Carried by Wireless From Paris to Washington.

Three weeks of patient experimentation culminated in success Thursday night, when the United States Naval Observatory, at Washington heard the beats of the Paris observatory clock as transmitted by radio signals from Eiffel Tower to the great naval radio station at Arlington. The beats were compared with those of the Washington clock for some minutes by the method of "coincidences."

The American and French commissioners who are conducting these experiments to determine the difference in longitude between Paris and Washington and the velocity of propagation of radio signals through space were greatly encouraged by their success. They announced that the season of the year when atmospheric conditions are best for radio work is now coming on and that their work will proceed as planned.

OIL INTERESTS CLASH IN MEXICO

Accusations Made by Representatives of Rival Corporations.

LATEST OUTBURSTS.

Bitter Feeling Manifest Between British Magnate and Waters-Pierce Organization.

Washington, Nov. 22.—In the accusations and counter accusations now being indulged in by the representatives of the Aerican and the British oil interests in Mexico, officials here are beginning to see some of the real underlying motives behind the present disastrous controversy in Mexico.

The latests of these outbursts has has been indulged in by Lord Cowdry, the British oil magnate, who has thrown aside all pretense regarding the feeling existing between his company and the Waters-Pierce outfit of American oil operators. Lord Cowdry is quoted as boldly asserting that the attack on his concern, and the charges that he was conniving with Huerta against the interests of the United States emanated from the American oil interests.

Speaker Champ Clark believes that the "silence policy" pursued by President Wilson and other administration officials in the Mexican situation is a good one.

SUES FOR $50,000.

Former Norfolk Girl Causes Summons to be Served on C. H. Wilson.

New York, Nov. 22.—Miss Florence Rosser Schenck has just caused a summons and complaint to be served on Charles Henry Wilson, manager of Alfred B. Vanderbilt's Newport estate, at the Horse Show in Madison Square Garden. She demands $50,000 damages from Wilfor alleged fraud and deceit in getting her to elope and live with him under the assumption that she was his legal wife.

Miss Schenck asserts that when she was 18 years old, in 1906 she eloped from Norfolk, Va., with Wilson, who was 45, upon his promise to marry her. She afterwards learned that he had a wife. The wife brought an action for divorce, and in May, 1908 Wilson told her he was free to marry her. The marriage was performed in London on May 8, 1908, but subsequently Wilson informed her that the marriage was illegal, because his wife did not divorce him until November, 1908.

Miss Schenck says she is now ill and destitute. She now claims she can produce the marriage certificate in her suit for $50,000.

CLOSE OF THE SERVICES.

Dr. McMillan Delivers Last Sermon At Second Presbyterian Church.

Rev. W. J. McMillan preached again last night in the Second Presbyterian church to an appreciative audence. He took for his text Acts xxvi., 28—"Then Agrippa said unto Paul, almost thou persuadeth me to be a Christian."

The speaker's theme was "Why I am Not a Christian," and he handled his subject in an interesting and forceful manner. "The sinner in the church," he said, "was a sinner saved, while the sinner outside of the church was an unsaved sinner." The doctor then proceeded to show what to be a Christian."

Arrangents have been ade for holding a meeting for men in the Westminster buidoing tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The speaker will be Rev. Dr. A. W. Spooner, of Washington, D. C. Dr. Spooner was for years an evangelist, is especially strong before men. All men of the city are cordially invited to attend.

At a meeting of a special committee of the board of trustee of the Alexandria Hospital selected to revise the charter, held last night, a subcommittee composed of Gardner L. Boothe and James R. Caton was appointed to go over the charter and make a report to the committee. The understanding was reached by the committee that every white religious denomination in the city would be represented on the board of trustees and the board of lady managers.

VOTERS MUST PAY UP

Only Two Weeks Remain to Settle Poll Taxes in Order to Vote For Councilmen

Two weeks from Tuesday the time for the paying of poll taxes in order to permit voting in the Democratic primary to be held next spring and the general election to be held on June 9th, when members of the city council will be elected, will expire. It is expected that there will be a rush of citizens to the office of City Treasurer Thomas W. Robinson during the next few days, to pay their taxes in order to cast their votes in the election. After December 1st a penalty of five per cent will be added.

According to the law all persons who take part in the next election must pay their poll taxes six months previous. Only persons who are qualified to vote in the general election can vote in the Democratic primary, which is now held under the auspices of the state. The date of the primary has not been decided by the city Democratic committee but under the law it must be sixty days previous to the date of the gneral election, which is June 9th.

Among those whose terms will expire next September and who must be elected in June are four members of the Board of Aldermen and eight members of the city council. They are as follows:

Alderman J. M. Hill, from the first ward; F. F. Marbury, from the second ward; Kenneth W. Ogden, from the third ward; and C J. W. Summers, from the fourth ward. Councilmen John Leadbeater and Urban S. Lambert from the first ward; Robert M. Graham and Julan Y. Williams, from the second ward; Albert D. Brockett and J. Fred Birrell, fro the third ward and Thomas Chauncey and D. Moxley Low, from the fourth ward. Mr. Birrell cannot be a candidate for re-election as he has been elected a member of the Virginia House of Delegates.

It is thought that all the other candidates will stand for re-election and will have opposition.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

NOT AFTER U. S. JOB.

Judge Rhea Expects to be Appointed For Another Term.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 22.—Judge Rhea, of the State Corporation Commission, says that he had no idea what was the foundation for the report which mentioned his name with the post of collector of internal revenue for the collector of Internal Revenue for the Western District of Virginia.

"According to the best of my knowledge and belief I will be appointed a member of the State Corporation Commission for a full term of six years beginning February 1st. The appointment will have to be made by the middle of January, the confirmation to be made prior to February 1st," said Judge Rhea.

In case Gov. Mann should name Judge Rhea, and the best of reason obtains for believing that he will, Judge Rhea will be in office for a full ter mof six years, beginning the day Governor Stuart goes into office, and he will serve for two years after Governor Stuart has completed his term.

TUCKER ARRIVES AT POST.

Judge Writes From Alaska By Last Boat of The Season.

Roanoke, Va., Nov. 22.—News has been received here directly from J. Randolph Tucker, of Bedford, the new judge of the District Court of Alaska. This is the first information, so far as is known, that has come to this country from Mr. Tucker since he sailed from Seattle.

Judge Tucker writes under date of November 5th, and his letter came by the last steamer of the season, which left for the states November 6th. He writes on offical letter paper, on which his name is engraved as judge of the court. He says he arrived at Nome November 3rd. His predecessor technically claimed that his removal by the Washington authorities was illegal and it was necessary to take formal proceedings to eject him. However, it seems the affair was conducted with good nature and courtesy on both sides.

Judge Tucker went to work immediately and at the time of writing had disposed of three cases. He says the people of Nome and the newspapers have been extremely kind and courteous. He finds his new surroundings intensely interesting, especially the crowds of sleigh dogs and Eskimo.

Powell claims that he shot at Dunn to scare him and that he had no intention killing the youth. The bullet entered his forehead penetrating the brain, and Dunn died 30 minutes later. At the coroners inquest today it was brought out that bad feeling existed.

BRAKEMAN A HERO.

Drags Woman and Child Almost From Under Train.

Martinsburg, W. Va., Nov. 22.—Jumping from his train on the Berkeley Springs Line at Hancock Station yesterday morning, Brakeman Earl Jones sprang in front of a passenger train on the Baltimore and Ohio and dragged Mrs. Alexander Walters, Mrs William Spillman and the latter's little girl from certain death.

Unconscious of the approach of the train, the women were walking along the track when the flier rounded the curve a short distance away. Spectators on the platform cried out to the women, but their warning was drowned by the rush of the train. Mr. Jones reached the women and child before they were struck and, gathering the three in his arms, hurled them to a place of safety. The pilot of the engine struck Jones lightly on the back as the train rushed past.

It has just become known in Paris that Gainsborough's famous painting, "The Market Cart," is now in the collection of Judge Elbert H. Gary. It was sold at Christie, in London, early this year, to Agnews, for $100,000. The price Judge Gary paid is not revealed.

PANIC AVERTED BY MR. MUNSEY.

A run which started on the United States Trust Company in Washington yesterday and which threatened to have serious consequences to thousands of depositors in that institution was averted by the prompt, public spirited, action of Frank A. Munsey, president of the Munsey Trust Company of Washington and Baltimore, and publisher of some of the largest and most infuential newspapers in the East. For some days it was known in Washington that the Trust Company was in a dangerous condition largely due to the amount of its loans on real estate which could not be quickly realized upon. The assets of the institution were far in excess of its liabilities but they were of such a nature that they could not be turned into cash to pay the depositors should they demand their money.

After the start of the run, which grew into a small sized panic, it was seen that unless some one came to the rescue the bank would in all probability be compelled to close its doors. Mr. Munsey, for several days, had been in touch with the situation, and, upon the advice of his representatives came to Washington yesterday afternoon. Within a few hours he had completed the details of one of the largest financial deals in the history of Washington, by the purchase of the controlling interest of the Trust Company. His announcement that it would be merged with the Munsey Trust Company, which has a capital stock of $2,000,000, brought to an end a situation that was regarded as a most serious one. Today's Gazette carries Mr. Munsey's pesonal guarantee to the depositors, which will set at rest any question as to the future of the company.

In purchasing the institution Mr. Munsey has shown his faith in Washington in a marked degree. There are few men who would have taken the prompt action that he did yesterday and his action should and will be appreciated by the people of the capitol. There are no men whose guarantee of the soundness of the Trust Company, will be taken any quicker than will be Mr. Munsey's

The spirit he has manifested in this particular instance is in keeping with his well known disposition, always to place all the resources of his wonderful mind, enegy and finances at the service of the masses.

CHRISTIANITY AND SOCIALISM.

A half page advertisement appeared in a Baltimore paper today announcing that addresses would be delivered at different places during the coming week on "Christiantey and Socialism." These metings are to be held under the auspices of ministerial unions and churches. The advertisement claims that the movement is endorsed by an encyclical letter from the Lambert Conference representing bishop of the Anglican communion throughout the world. The following extracts from the advertisement are suggestive:

There is no virtue in closing our eyes to a situation which exists in our midst and comforting ourselves with the false sense of security. Evils there are, great and glaring, in our social order. To arouse people to a sense of dissatisfaction with the continuance of inherent wrongs which produce a complete stratification of society,and to set men at work seeking correctives,is indeed a duty which the church is called upon to lead.

As to whether the Socialist's program is sound or unsound must be determined by earnest Christian study, not un-Christian condemnation or apathy. To assume, however, that the order under which we live is not a subject of revision or substitut on is unwarranted. Some already prophesy that it is destined to fall of its own weight and that social engineers must be raised up who can devise a substitute.

The advertisement alluded to above contains a cross-page cut. Men attired in evening suits and women bedecked with diamonds are represented as having gathered at a social function, while the floor of the room is being held up by a struggling mass of humanity one of whom has protruded his arms through the floor and produced terror to the compay.

During the past few years some ministers of the gospel and leaders in church organizations have attempted to blend Christianity with Socialism. All sorts of specious arguments are used in futile ndeavors to conscript the Man of Galilee into the ranks of this organization. How the principles He ennunciated can be made to fuse with the doctrines of Socialism is hard to comprehend by the meek and lowly followers of the Crucified One. The following incident in His career upon earth seems to be a bomb shell at all Socialistic claims upon Him:

In the gospel of Luke chapter twelve, verses 13, 14 and 15, we find the following:

And one of the company said unto Him, Master, speak to my brother that he divided the inheritance with me.

And He said unto him, Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?

And He said unto them, Take heed and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesses.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

As a result of the growing agitation of the Nonsectarian League, composed of socialists, free thinkers and atheists, the strike against the state church is reaching large proportions in Germany. More than 5,500 persons have stepped out of the ranks of church membership in Berlin yesterday and today as a result of mass meetings It is estimated that 15,000 church members have left the church in Berlin alone since the movement began.

Chief of Police Grant, of Bingham, Utah and Deputy Sheriffs Otto Whitpack and Nephi Jensen were killed in a fight with Ralph Lepez, a Mexican, near Saratoga Springs, late yesterday. Lopez is wanted in Bingham for the murder of a countryman there early this morning. After slaying the three officers, Lopez fled into the hills. Posses are searching for him, with the prospect of another fight if he is overtaken. The murder for which Lopez is wanted was committed near the Highland Boy nine at Bingham, when he shot and killed John Valdez.

The body of James A. Twohey, an attorney, of Washington, D. C., was found in a room in the Grand Union Hotel, Ottawa, Ontario, early yesterday evening. A letter that lay on a table near the bed was addressed to Mrs. James A. Twohey, 3179 Eighteenth street, Washington, D. C. Mr. Twohey had killed himself, the police said, with a razor which was found at the side of the bed.

Policemen W. J. Lavery, and Leo Kennedy were tried in criminal court at Pittsburgh, Pa., yesterday on the charge of enticing minor girls. The two men, it is said, took Catherine Burns and Anna Butler, each eighteen, to the home of Cora Dickenson in the East End, for immoral purposes. The Dickenson woman will be tried later. After the girls had been taken to the house they committed suicide. Before they died, it is said, they made a statement, accusing the policemen.

Vengeance was promptly visited on the suffragettes, who early yesterday set fire to a great lumber yard fire amounted to $100,000. Postcards and placards left on the scene indicated that the blaze was set by a militant arson squad.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Pupils Will Receive Holiday Thursday and Friday Next Week.

The pupils of the High School welcomed the notice giving them holiday the Friday after Thanksgiving. Some were making plans to go away for Thanksgiving and stay until the following Monday, but were doubtful of getting holiday Friday. Now that the question has been decided, a weight has been lifted off their minds. Even those that are not going away are inclined to be joyful, for a holiday is always a pleasant diversion.

A short time ago the II. English class, accompanied by their teacher, visited the Congressional Library. They spent a delightful evening there.

Two new pupils have entered school during the week. This makes the third in the past two weeks. Two of these enrolled in the second year, and one in the junior class.

The Sophomores have always been shown the "Excellents" and good grades made by the seniors on their compositions. Not to be outdone by the seniors they went to work and on the compositions they wrote as a rehtoric test, quite a good number of the class made "Excellents." The Sophomores do not like to be overdone in anything, and, hence, work hard to keep the other classes from getting ahead of them.

The High School was glad to learn that Tom Wattles had been removed from the hospital to his home in Prince street. The Sohpomore class sent him a bunch of chrysanthemums with the hope that he will soon be well enough to attend school, as he is greatly missed.

The first year is having short lessons in physical geography at present in preparation for a review in that subject. They will also begin a review in algebra.

The former awkward squad of the Sophomore militia now presents a very military appearance as it turns the corner for the door. A fine is imposed upon the soldiers, who are not in line when the bell rings. The other classes try to copy the "Sophs," but are unsuccessful in the attempt.

During the week the Latin classes in the second, third, and fourth years have had very interesting work. As a supplement to the regular lessons they have had to find out about different masters of art and their paintings. The pictures which Mr. Blanton bought were greatly enjoyed by these classes.

The compositions, which the seniors were preparing, have been completed.

The A. H. S. Literary Society, which met last Saturday night, rendered an excellent program. The subject for debate was: "Resolved, that Co-education is Prefereable to Separate Education in Virginia." The affirmative side was upheld by Miss Corinne Reardon and Jack Reardon, and the negative by Miss Madeline Martin, her colleague being absent. The latter was awarded the decision. The declamations were also very good.

A motion was made and carried appointing a committee to re-write and revise the constitution of the society, it not being clear on all points. A motion restricting the business of the society to a certain time was also made and carried. This was done in order to give enough time for the rendering of the program before adjournment.

The Freshmen had an oral composition day Thursday. Various interesting compositions were given. These days give the pupils a keen enjoyment of the English work.

The A. H. S. second football team battled with the one of the Episcopal High School teams to a tie Thursday. The score was 0 to 0. The first team will play Riggs Preparatory School today.

The Sophomores are now in the part of physiology, most difficult to learn—the nervous system. They expect, however, to go on through it in their accustomed style.

Mr. Maphis, from the University of Virginia, visited our school recently.

Several members of the school were rather disconcerted about the next meeting of the Literary Society. They thought, at first, it was to be on the twenty-ninth of this month. They were to participate in the program for the next meeting, and had made plans to go away during that time for Thanksgiving. They were relieved, therefore, when they found out that the next meeting was to be on December the sixth, the meetings always taking place the first and third Saturdays of each month.

The Sophomores are going over their specified course of study very rapidly. They have completed the Crusades in history, and Miss Ficklin is giving the class an outline on them. In physiology, they are studying the nervous system, and although, as has been said, is the hardiest part of the book, it will not take the Sophomores long to finish it. The study of the paragraph has been completed in rhetoric, and the whole composition taken up. In algebra they are working simultaneous equotations, and starting daily exercise tests in them. They have also gone over some twenty-three chapter of Caesar.

The first year is beginning a thorough study of the "Lady of the Lake" now that they have read it. They have only four classics this year, instead of the usual six, and are able to make a more exhaustive study of each one with a few classics, than if they had six.

Nothing having been heard of the firm from whom the second year ordered pins, the class presiding has ordered them from Dieges and Clust in Washington. The class is anxious to receive them and hope they have no delay in getting them.

Those in the High School who say that Latin is a dead language should read this:

Is Latin a dead language?
Tango—Tangere—Turki —Trotum.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Among the nominations sent to the Senate Thursday were the following: James W. Green to be postmaster at Culpeper, Va.; Mrs. Lillie L. Davis, to be postmistress at National Soldiers' Home, near Hampton Va; Kenneth S. Patton, of Charlottesvlle, Va., to be counsel at Cognac, France; Fred Morris Dearing, of Missouri, to be secretary of the embassy at Madrid, Spain, to which country Joseph E. Willard, of Virginia, is ambassador.

A masked and armed robber entered the bank of Hedelburg, Miss yesterday afternoon, forced the cashier and others into the vault, locked it, and took $3,000. He rode away

A man hunt, in which half the male population of the county is participating, was in progress last night at Cedar Creek, Nebr., Jas. Biddlecomb, an electric lineman, is being sought, charged with assaulting Irene Sween, cutting her throat throwing acid in her face, binding and gagging her, and leaving her tied to a bed post. The girl may recover but will be blinded for life. She has revived sufficiently to accuse Biddlecomb. Every posse has a rope, and a lynching is promised if Biddlecomb is captured.

Five dollar gold pieces rained over the North Island Aviation Field yesterday. All afternoon half a hundred attaches of the army and navy aviation camp searched for the precious yellow metal discs, some of them being awarded with two, and many with one $5 chunk. The shower came when Lincoln Beachey, the aviator, made his seventeenth upside down flight. Beachey cashed a draft in bank in the morning, and put more than $300 in gold in an upper vest pocket for safety. As his machine assumed the inverted position 2,500 feet in the air, Beachey left the cold stream out, some of it striking him in the face. The intrepid air pilot quickly straightened his machine rightside up and gilded for earth.

Two thousand lunatics in the asylum Ponteseveso, near Milan, Italy yesterday mutined and more than half of the number managed to escape and are being pursued in the mountains by police. The lunatics armed themselves with clubs, broomsticks and any weapon at hand and overpowered the keepers. The doors were torn down and windows were smashed in the fight for freedom, and an alarm brought large detachments of the police and fire department. Several streams of water were poured upon the mutineers, but without avail. The inmates were of both sexes, and the majority were young people.

Jules Verdines made a great non-stop flight yesterday from Nancy France, near the German frontier and crossed Germany to Prague, Bohemia, a distance of 380 miles. He made the flight in seven hours. In crossing Germany, Verdines defied the German War Department, which had refused to permit him to use the route. Today he was to fly to Vienna and thence proceed to Constantinople.

The Munsey Trust Company Buys The United States Trust Company and Guarantees Its Obligations

..Late last night the Munsey Trust Company completed negotiations for the purchase of the United States Trust Company, and at once took over the business of that company.

This means that the Munsey Trust Company with its capital of Two Million Dollars, is now back of the United States Trust Company and guarantees its deposits and all other obligations.

And this mean, too, that no depositor in the United Steates Trust Company need have any further concern about his money on deposit in that company. It is positively safe.

A Personal Word to Depositors in The United States Trust Company

Naturally, I would not have bought the United States Trust Company without a very thorough investigation of its affairs. This investigation shows that its assets are well in excess of its liabilities to its depositors.

But now that it has come into the hands of the Munsey Trust Company, its strength is increased by the full measure of the Munsey Trust Company—Over Two million Dollars.

So I want to assure you, both personally and as the president of the Munsey Trust Company, and as the owner of the Washington Times, that your money in the United States Trust Company is absolutely safe. And, furthermore, I hereby give you my personal, individual guarantee of its safety.

CAKE READY FOR WEDDING.

Woman Baker Will Accompany it to The White House.

New York, Nov. 22.—Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson's wedding cake, weighing 130 pounds was photographed yesterday afternoon before being taken to Washington to grace the wedding in the White House, November 25. Mme. Blanche, 11 West 63rd street, who made cakes for festal occasions for three Presidents, will escort the great piece of pastry to the capital.

Miss Wilson's cake is a "two-story" one, surmounted by a vase 16 inches tall, while the upper layer is 16 inches in diamater and 4 inches tall. The cake without frosting, took a week to make. A plain icing was used at Miss Wilson's request. This is studded in silver with the initials "W-S."

Two thousand small boxes have been provided for guests. The boxes are of a new shape, being shorter and thicker than usual. They are white, with the initials of Miss Wilson and Mr. Sayre in white on a silver diamond.

Mme. Blanche baked the wedding cake for President Roosevelt's daughter Alice, who was married to Nicholas Longworth, and for President and Mrs. Taft's silver wedding anniversary.

CHILD-BRIDE TAKES POISON.

Mrs. Helen Long, Aged 15, of Baltimore, Swallows Drug in Street.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 22.—Leaving a penciled note of a few lines indirectly blaming her husband for the act she intended to commit, Mrs. Helen Long, 15-year-old wife of Benjamin Long, of this city, attempted to commit suicide by swallowing a bichloride of mercury tablet yesterday.

The girl-wife, only a child in years and appearance, took the poison while standing on the pavement at 26 Market Place. The would-be suicide was hurried to the Mercy Hospital.

Soon afterward a penciled note addressed to "My Mother," was found The note read:

"Dear Mother: Forgive me for what I have done. Mother, if I die blame it on 'Ben' Long. He gave me the money to buy some poison. He didn't give a —if I died. Good-bye. From your HELEN."

At the hospital Mrs. Long expressed regret for her act. She said her husband had quarreled she said.

The husband, who is 22, later said they had quarreled over the attentions she had been receiving from a former admirer. He denied, however, that he had given her money to buy the poison.

Waterboat For Drunkards.

Over-indulgent persons of the District of Columbia will be confined to the "water boat" in the future instead of the convenient old "wagon."

Washington's new institution for inebriates is anchored off the harbor precinct. It is a houseboat in which all prisoners sentenced to five days' incarceration for violation of the excise law will be confined. The "water" boat" is of brick walls, built on a scow nnd resembles a small town 'jail.' It is 50 feet long by 25 feet wide, and was constructed by the prisoners at the Occoquan warkhouse. It has been christened the "Titanic,' and baptismal functions having been conducted with "aqua pura" in conformity with the vessel's purpose. It is also to be used for workhouse prisoners who work about the wharves of Washington.
